

Seniors creative in community life

Retirement brings time to get things done

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Age is no longer the barrier it once was. The years rarely cripple people before retirement and pensioners are not expected to fade silently into the background of life. Senior citizens are a strong force within Haliburton County and they're not content to waste their "golden years" like so many generations before them. The majority, fortunate to have good health past retirement, participate in entertainment as diverse as they are themselves. Events may be scheduled exclusively for them but it is not only self-centred amusement that many seniors seek; they also want to feel important to their communities. Whether older people assist the less fortunate among their peers or desire to provide an improved lifestyle for younger generations, their lives and those of many others are richer through their efforts.

Bessie Burk, of Lochlin, joined the ranks of the Haliburton County Home Support Services in June 1980 when the tremendously popular Wheels to Meals program began in the Gelert/Ingoldsby/Lochlin/Donald (GILD) area. The percentage of the immediate area residents who attend the weekly meals at a lodge near Ingoldsby is low, but many senior citizens drive from all corners of the county to enjoy the lunch time camaraderie. The formative meeting in 1980, organized by support service coordinator, Marie Wallace, enticed 41 seniors to travel to the southern township meeting. And since that time, their ardour has continued for more than a year and a half.

"They really look forward to it. It's not so much the meal, it's a nice meal, but it's the social time they have after," Burk explains. The success of the program, Burk claims, stems from the fact that seniors need the opportunity to interact with other people.

"It's just built up as a county thing. They want to come, I don't urge them," she says.

No one understands the meaning of Burk's words better than Emil Neimann, of Haliburton; he saw the popularity of the Haliburton seniors club blossom for four years during his tenure as president.

In 1977 when the group was struggling to get established, Neimann joined to help the organization qualify for a New Horizons grant. A few formative meetings were held, then the group set out to discover if a majority of seniors showed a

Echo wins awards

Supplement, sports story honoured

The Haliburton County Echo and its staff have once again been honoured in the annual Ontario Community Newspaper Association competition.

For the second year in a row, the Echo's Fall Tour of Haliburton County supplement has been judged the best supplement produced in 1981 by a weekly newspaper in Ontario with a circulation of under 6,500. More than 50 newspapers fall into the category.

Echo editor Len Pizzev was also honoured by the Ministry of Culture and Recreation in the sports category, for a story on the career and hopes of West Guilford native Bernie Nicholls, who was drafted by the Los Angeles Kings of the NHL.

It was the second year in a row that Echo stories have been singled out for awards from the ministry.

Last year, ministry awards in the arts and heritage categories went to the Echo's editor.

The prizes will be awarded at the newspaper association's annual convention in Toronto March 5.

Ray Cox, president of the Minden Rotary Club, David Bishop, Haliburton Rotary president, and Luther Wilson were among the people who took part in the Bowl for Millions event at Carnarvon Lanes Saturday. The event raised more than $1200 for the local Big Brothers Association.

Bowlers help Big Brothers

Minden, Haliburton Rotary compete, others aid cause

The Carnarvon five pin bowlers association raised more than $1250 for the Haliburton County Big Brothers Association Saturday through the annual Bowl for Millions campaign.

Bowlers from several area leagues joined representatives from businesses and organizations around the county to shoot for high scores on Saturday afternoon and raise funds through sponsors' pledges.

In the most competitive matchup of the day, Haliburton Rotary Club president David Bishop raised a total of $188 to outdistance Minden Rotary Club president Ray Cox, who brought in $108 for his efforts.

Among commercial entrants in the Bowl for Millions campaign, Audrey's Consignment Store was by far the top fund raiser, bowling for $221.71. Pat and Carol of the Brown Owl were next highest, with $82.08 in pledges, followed by Carol Toye of Minden IGA, Fred Cox bowling for The Times, and John Petney of Minden Home Hardware.

League bowlers were well represented at the event, and for the second year in a row, were led by Ev Stata of the Wednesday afternoon league, who raised $115.90 for her efforts. Close behind was Earl Gibbons of the Letter of objection kept from public, owner

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Dave Willis, proprietor of the Rockcliffe Hotel, has requested an exemption from the Anson, Hindon and Minden anti-noise by-law, but already an objection to changing the document has been dealt with in a committee of the whole session.

Willis filed his exemption application under sections five and six of by-law 78-51. Section six allows community festivals to be exempt as traditional events. "The Rockcliffe has been located at its present site since the early 1900's and has been known as the Rockcliffe since 1942 (Deed 4211). This makes the Rockcliffe more traditional and festive than some of those already exempted," Willis wrote in his application.

At a council meeting last Wednesday, Willis asked if any written objections had been received by council. Council acknowledged it had received a letter from a ratepayer but had considered the matter in committee of the whole during a correspondence meeting. Present at the meeting were reeve Lloyd Walker, councillors Lyle McKnight and Larry Cummins. Council said it would not divulge the name of the ratepayer or the contents of the letter although it was passed around the council table for members to peruse.

Later in the day, Willis returned to council demanding release of the letter to comply with a section of the municipal act. The act states: "Except as otherwise provided in any Act, any person, at all reasonable hours, may inspect any records, books, accounts and documents in the possession or under the control of the clerk, except inter-departmental correspondence and reports of officials of any department or of solicitors for the corporation made to council, board of control or any committee of council, and the clerk within a reasonable time shall furnish copies of them or extracts therefrom certified under his hand to any applicant on payment at the rate of 10 cents for every 100 words or such other rate as the council may fix."

Willis was told council would discuss the matter later. During Willis' first appearance that day, reeve Lloyd Walker said he would like more information from the OPP regarding their jurisdiction over noise complaints in town. The reeve had made a similar comment

AHM may buy lights

Councillor forsees long term saving

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Anson, Hindon and Minden council is considering a scheme to purchase its streetlights from Ontario Hydro, a move that council hopes would save money in approximately five years.

Plans for the purchase, presented by councillor Ed Pergolas, last Wednesday, have not been finalized but suggest the municipality could save more than $2,000 per year if it took over the Minden streetlights.

Presently, Ontario Hydro owns 137 lights and all but seven poles in the village. The purchase agreement would not include the seven poles, which council would like to sell to the power company.

The Minden lights (depreciated until June 1982), would cost the municipality $13,954, Pergolas said, according to figures supplied by Minden area Hydro manager Cal Wilson. The 12 lights in the Carnarvon area would cost $2,176 but a figure has not yet been established for lights in Ingoldsby, Pergolas indicated.

Dealing only with the Minden lighting system, Pergolas told council the municipality pays $2,733 for capital carrying charges each year. This amount decreases annually but only marginally, Pergolas added.

Feeding helps deer, snow cuts predation

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Abundant snow in the forests always creates havoc for deer herds but problems were kept to a minimum this winter by the Ministry of Natural Resources feeding programs.

This winter, as in the past, MNR has contracted feeding programs and trail breaking operations in seven deer yards in the district. While the deer have experienced a "bit of a problem" because of snow levels in the bush, wolves have not killed a large number of deer this winter because the predators cannot run on top of the sugary snow, according to Dave Atkinson of the Minden District office. Mild weather creating a crust on the snow could make it easier for the wolves to prey on the deer, Atkinson said.

If mild weather forecast for this week materializes, dog problems will probably increase, the MNR representatives added. He urged dog owners to ensure their animals are not running at large as a measure against deer falling prey to domestic animals.

Atkinson said MNR staff have noticed a higher doe and fawn population during feeding operations. He attributed the increase to the limited issue of antlerless deer permits during last autumn's hunt.

Story sparks CBC interview

Controversy continues to surround the Peterborough/Haliburton tourism zone study with public interest on the increase in outlying areas. Last week, CBC radio conducted an interview with a local resort owner and a representative of Laventhol and Horwath, the consulting firm responsible for the study.

Eileen Crawford, owner of Hart Lodge on Highway 35 five miles north of Minden, was interviewed by Allan Miller, host of Ontario Morning, while a representative from Laventhol and Horwath, management consultants, was on the other line.

Crawford said the most important aspect of the interview was that "Laventhol and Horwath were on the run". The talk centred mainly on the Minden area's displeasure with consultants' investigation of the tourism possibilities in the Anson, Hindon and Minden area, and the unfortunate naming of the area as the Anson Outcrop, Crawford said.

At its regular council meeting, last Wednesday, Anson, Hindon and Minden council received a letter from Barry Dobson, of the Ministry of Industry and Tourism, stating that council's objections to the report were being forwarded to Michael Smith of Laventhol and Horwath. Council has asked for that additional material concerning the Minden area be incorporated into the study and that the ministry void the report entirely. Council passed a resolution to condemn the study.

Weather looks perfect for Carnival

Three day event includes dances, tournaments, contests, and fun

Temperatures have moderated and there's a smell of spring in the air, but plenty of snow and warm sunshine should make conditions just about perfect for the 14th annual Haliburton Winter Carnival this week-end.

The carnival gets underway on Friday afternoon and continues throughout the week-end, winding up Sunday afternoon.

Friday's events include the start of the week-end long fish derby, ice sculpture judging, a bean and chili supper at the arena auditorium starting at 5 p.m., a family skating party from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., the first games in the PineStone Inn curling bonspiel, a musical program at the Ralls' End Gallery, the first matches in the Chalkduster Hockey tournament, and a teen dance at the arena with the crowning of the carnival queen.

Saturday, the biggest day of the carnival, will get underway with a pancake breakfast at the Legion from 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Hockey and curling continue throughout the day, and a 30 kilometre ski race begins at the high school at 10 a.m., winding up at Deer Lodge.

The ladies of the Eastern Star will again sponsor their bake sale at Curry Motors showroom starting at 11 a.m. At noon, card and table games begin at the Legion and will continue for several hours, as will musical concerts and the Gallery which begin at noon.

Victoria Street school will once again sponsor the popular crazy carpet rides, beginning at 1 p.m.

At 2 p.m., attention will shift to the ball field adjacent to the arena where a new event to the carnival, a lumberman's show, will begin. Included are a chainsaw competition cutting through a 12 inch log, a cross cut saw competition, an axe chop and a chair carving contest.

The Sky Slider hot air balloon is also expected to be on hand Saturday, and free horse drawn sleigh rides will be offered starting at the ball diamond. From 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. the ladies of St. Anthony's church will put on their ever popular spaghetti supper, and the day will wind up with the carnival dance at the Legion to the music of 'Sapphire'.

Sunday's events include family and adult snowmobile tours beginning on Head Lake at 11 a.m., a Molstar ski event at Sir Sam's ski area, family snowmobile events on Head Lake beginning at noon, and a Haliburton Huskies league game at the arena beginning at 2:30 p.m.

Briefly ...

Accidents reported

There were eight motor vehicle accidents in Haliburton County over the week of February 8-14, Minden OPP report. Three people were injured in the mishaps.

Police also investigated 70 general occurrences, including five thefts, five parking complaints, two break and enters, two damage complaints and six non-sufficient fund cheque complaints.

NSF cheques on rise

Police are unsure whether it's a sign of the general economy or the result of the usual winter slowdown in Haliburton County, but complaints from local merchants about NSF cheques have been on the increase recently.

In the past week, six separate and unrelated complaints were received by Minden OPP officers.

Trucker has narrow escape

A Stanhope Township man had a narrow escape from injury Saturday when his log truck stalled and rolled down a hill backwards.

Keith Rowden, 29, was climbing a steep hill on a logging road in Guilford Township when his vehicle stalled. The truck rolled backward down the hill and slid into a ditch. The impact pushed the logs through the back of the truck's cab, but Rowden was not injured.

Damage to the vehicle, a 1979 IHC, was estimated at $15,000.

Cars collide, two hurt

Two people suffered minor injuries in a head-on collision on Kashagawigamog Lake Road Saturday.

Cars driven by Drew Carey, 23 of Haliburton and Emile Frenette, 35, of Kapuskasing collided on a curve at about 3:15 p.m.

Kathy Carey, 22, a passenger in Carey's car and Conrad Savage, 34, of Kapuskasing, a passenger in Frenette's vehicle, suffered minor injuries.

Frenette was charged with driving left of centre. Damage to his vehicle was estimated at $1500. An identical damage estimate was recorded for Carey's vehicle.

Thefts investigated

Police are investigating a number of thefts in the Eagle Lake/Haliburton Lake area over the week-end.

On Saturday, a cottage in the Eagle Lake area was reported to have been the object of a breakin. Sunday, thefts from two cars were reported in Eagle Lake and a third car breakin was reported at Fort Irwin.

Stolen was car stereo equipment, a television, a radio, cassette tapes, a wrench and two pairs of skis.

Guild plans car sink contest

For the fourth year in a row, the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts is giving people a chance to guess when a car will sink through the ice on Head Lake.

Funds raised through the contest will aid the Rails' End Station Gallery.

Tickets go on sale carnival week-end, so out of town visitors as well as local people will have a chance to guess the month, day, hour, minute and second when the car slips into the water.

Last year the car sank on Friday, April 3 at 9:34 a.m.

Norm Perrott, Vince Hammond and Duane Lewis have been picking up a lot of trophies lately in various snowmobile drag races around the area. Last weekend the riders, who are all employees of Haliburton Marine, racked up eight firsts and three seconds in competitions on Oxtongue Lake at Huntsville.

Streetlight purchase could save money

If the lights were purchased, the municipality would no longer pay the annual carrying charges. To buy the lights, Pergolas suggested the municipality could obtain a five year debenture from the bank (offered at one-quarter per cent over prime rate). He said the municipality might pay more to the bank at the outset of the program than it has been paying to Ontario Hydro, but a saving would be noticeable at the end of five years.

Under the current system the municipality pays a $4.50 annual maintenance charge for each light and a $2 annual maintenance charge per pole. These charges would remain the same if the system was purchased.

As well as saving money, purchasing the lights would also free council from Hydro's plan to compel municipalities to purchase lights only from the power company, Pergolas said. He noted that the municipality can purchase lights more cheaply elsewhere.

Tourism study

anxious to continue pressuring the ministry and the consultants but councillor Lyle McKnight suggested they await Smith's reply. "It's just going to repeat what's been said before," Pergolas said.

While council decided to wait for a return letter, Pergolas and McKnight agreed it was difficult to comprehend which study to follow, the tourism report or the Haliburton Development Strategy (prepared in 1978).

Pergolas suggested council ask the ministry to explain which study's guidelines the townships should recognize.

"We don't know whether to burn the planning strategy or the other one," McKnight agreed.

Council plans to pursue the matter further.

"I beat high energy costs by installing a Carrier Heat Pump"

Mr. W. Wood, Mississauga, saved over 40% in energy costs last year! In May 1980, Mr. Wood installed a Carrier Heat Pump and converted to electric heat. How much did he save in the first year, alone?

Over 40% on his previous costs with an oil heating system in the severe winter of 1981 when temperatures hit record lows.

Carrier has pioneered the way in heat pump technology since 1932 to bring you heat pump systems that are more efficient. More efficient in the use of energy. More efficient in reliability and long life. And more important, more efficient in saving you money on high energy costs. Plus with a Carrier Heat pump system you get all season comfort. Your heat pump works as an air conditioner in summer! Find out how you can beat energy costs like Mr. Wood by calling Carrier today!

Dysart council meet

At a special meeting February 2, Dysart et al council agreed to give a donation of $300 to the Chamber of Commerce for distribution of local advertising materials at Fairview Malls in the Toronto area (16 locations).

At a regular meeting February 8, the following matters were considered:

The Reeve and Clerk were authorized to sign the deed from Mrs. S. St. Louis conveying a portion of the Drag Lake Outlet Bay Road to the Township.

The OHRP Administrator was authorized to complete the Ontario Home Renewal Program Grant Application to Willis at a council meeting two weeks earlier.

In the interim, Willis contacted the OPP sergeant, Bill Bailey, and learned the OPP's charges are outlined under the criminal code. "That's pretty heavy stuff, it's under the criminal act. They warn you once and the next time they take the equipment," Willis explained. He said a conviction carries a fine in the 1,000's of dollars and a possible jail term. "I just hope we're not the test case again," he said.

At a council meeting three weeks ago, councillors had said they were not in favour of rescinding the noise by-law and by-law enforcement officer Dick Schell told council the OPP had no jurisdiction if the municipality had a by-law.

Reeve Lloyd Walker suggested council wait for more information from the OPP and said he'd "like to see this cleared up at our next meeting."

Council has not released the letter considered in committee of the whole or the name of the ratepayer although deputy reeve Doug Pritchard told Willis he should be able to figure out who sent the letter.

Dump hours will change

the 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. hours during the week did not give those who work in Minden village an opportunity to dump their garbage.

When council tendered for maintenance of the dump this year, it asked for quotations on similar hours of operation, but recently the Ministry of the Environment suggested the site should remain open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. To comply with that request, council hired an additional caretaker.

At a regular council meeting last week, council suggested more suitable hours of operation would be 10 a.m.

until 6 p.m. Those hours are effective as soon as signs are posted and newspaper advertisements are circulated.

Tax penalty up

Anson, Hindon and Minden council has increased the penalty on current overdue taxes.

At its regular meeting, last Wednesday, council accepted the penalty rate of 18 per cent per year. A recent provincial legislation allows municipalities to penalize rate payers up to one and a half per cent above the prime lending rate.

FEATURE

Time an asset seniors can offer community

similar interest; a pot luck dinner at the Haliburton village Orange Hall offered the chance of discovery but the fear of an embarrassing attendance of seniors was extremely real to the organizers. One hundred and five places were set for dinner and the group awaited the response. As dinner time approached, seniors filed through the doors. Soon the room was filled but senior citizens were not turned away. They backed up to the sidewalk and then onto the street. The group had never dreamt it would get such an overwhelming response.

"People were actually hungry for it. It never quit from then on. It's got to be that people are hungry for activities," Neimann theorizes.

More than four years of involvement in senior citizen's clubs throughout the county has left Neimann with little time to yearn for more activities. With memberships in senior clubs in

Emil Neimann

Minden, Wilberforce, Haliburton and Gooderham. Neimann says it's quite impossible to attend all the functions. "It's just go, go, go, catch the rabbit. I'm only here (at home) when I open the door, and if the other one is open I might be out again."

Neimann lives independent of the home supports' meals on wheels program (a service providing three hot meals a week to seniors at home) but the temptation exists to subscribe, he says. If he was unable to attend the senior citizen luncheons sponsored in many parts of the county, a meals on wheels volunteer would be knocking at his door, he says.

There are days, Neimann admits, when a hot meal ready on the table is more than appealing. "It would be nice to wash my hands and turn around to a meal."

Neimann and Burk wouldn't miss their many weekly outings but there are many seniors who have not discovered the relaxation and camaraderie that senior meetings can provide. "There's an awful lot of people who should be getting out...when you see how some people stay at home and waste the time away," Burk says, shaking her head.

Catherine Denholm, of Eagle Lake agrees with Burk and Neimann that the home support service is important: "It is good for the people who are helping as well as those who are helped. They have helped people who needed to be helped. There are those who do need help."

While Denholm supports the organization and works towards its goals, her duties do not outweigh her concern and interest for younger people.

"Probably my greatest interest is the feminist movement," says Denholm, who is a representative on the National Action Committee on the Status of Women and Women for Political Action. She freely admits enjoying activities that involve young people and through this involvement her work with a local young women's group has evolved.

'People change on the outside, but they don't change much on the inside'

Her interest began simply enough; she conducted a course on the role of women. From that course, Sir Sandford Fleming College, Northern Campus in Haliburton village, continued with an occasional "Women's Night Out" which features a topical speaker. Denholm realizes feminism is a rather unique interest for a senior citizen but says, like any other group, it can enjoy the public's respect when older people are involved.

"Sometimes your experience, your gray hair, your age, gives some authority to an organization...if there's one thing about old age, your looks carry some sobriety, seriousness, much more than what you say," Denholm explains.

During her involvement with both the seniors' group and the young women's meetings, Denholm has realized that the need to talk and have fun is the same at any age.

"The thing younger people should remember is that people change on the outside, but they don't really change that much on the inside."

Young or old, there is a difference between the age groups and Denholm believes senior citizens enjoy some advantages. "I think being a senior citizen is wonderful...you have the very pleasant part of not having to go to work."

Senior citizen status also brings the realization that life will indeed end and the unlimited future that once existed in more youthful days vanishes. "You jolly well aren't going to waste any of it (time)," Denholm admits. She says seniors don't have to be deprived of activity in Haliburton

County because social security benefits make life comfortable. While she admits that many seniors, like her and her husband, retired to the area because they enjoy it's environment, seniors who spent their lives here also reap the benefits of retiring in the area. "In Haliburton, senior citizens enjoy themselves more because they have been independent all their lives."

Like Denholm, Alex Stevenson, of Maple Lake, retired in a comfortable cottage-type bungalow overlooking the lake, and, like Denholm, he spent many years in or near the metropolitan city limits. Retiring to the area in 1971 with his wife, Stevenson enjoyed the relaxation of country life for about two years before he actively became involved in the community.

As in most small communities, there are always complainers who lament the shortcomings of their municipal representatives. Stevenson, who says he tires of those who whine about matters they know nothing about, decided to attend a council meeting to discover if the municipal business was running smoothly. He's attended regularly ever since.

Through this involvement, Stevenson realized the importance of seniors in community-oriented activities. In Stanhope Township, Stevenson says, 26 per cent of the population is made up of seniors. That represents 239 people over 60 years of age. Although Stevenson realizes "a lot of people under 65 would resent being called a senior", the division is being utilized by a small committee, of which he is a member, to discover the recreational interests of all age groups.

The township has realized, Stevenson says, that residents will travel less in the future and that local community activities will grow in importance. Seniors may soon organize activities and then invite other age groups to participate. "Seniors, I think, could play an active role to bring that about. I'd like an intermingling of age groups, where it's possible," Stevenson said.

To incorporate an intermingling of the generations, Stevenson said he would like to encourage seniors to reach out toward teenagers instead of concentrating entirely on caring for other seniors in the community. Home support services are also active in Stanhope and a meals program operates in Carnarvon, but Stevenson said he would like to see a seniors club formed in the township. While home support seems to help those in need, Stevenson said he feels the more active members become, the more advantageous they are to the community.

"Seniors have the time. They don't all have the energy, but even if they participated..." Stevenson said.

Senior citizens can all see improvements and activities they would like to stimulate and if the growth of their involvement in the past five years is an indication, their strength will continue. It could be that Denholm sums up their feelings best: "We aren't willing to be bored. We can do the things we want to do."

A choice we need

On March 30, the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission will hold a public hearing in Cobourg to decide the fate of an FM radio station in that community. The CRTC's decision will influence life in Haliburton County, although only a small number of people may be aware of the fact.

The station in question, CFMX, had its license cancelled by the CRTC earlier this year, a move that provoked a public outcry throughout the stations broadcast area, which includes much of Haliburton County. On March 30, the commission will decide whether to re-license CFMX or award broadcast rights to one of two other applicants.

If the CRTC does not allow CFMX to go back on the air, it will do the people of central Ontario a disservice. The Cobourg station offered an alternative for lovers of serious music. It played classical music, and only classical music, and it let the music speak for itself, with a minimum of banter, news and advertising between selections. In airwaves glutted with music that runs the gamut from easy listening mediocrity to just plain noise, CFMX was a refreshing change. But it was more than that, it was also an important cultural outlet in an area that has all too few of them.

If the FM radio dial offered a choice of several stations with programming similar to that provided by CFMX, the station would not be missed. But in Haliburton County, the Cobourg station represented an important service, a service that the two other applicants for CFMX's frequency of 103.1 have no intention of providing.

The CRTC has a mandate to support culture in this country, and it can live up to that mandate by allowing the people of Haliburton County to choose classical music when they turn on their FM receivers.

Carnival reaches pivotal point

This week-end's Haliburton Winter Carnival represents the combined efforts of many people, and its success or failure will depend on more than the weather, although snow, or the lack of it, will have an unavoidable influence on the outcome. If the carnival is to be a success, it will have to be supported by the people for whom it is put on - the citizens of Haliburton County.

The carnival has changed in the 14 years that have passed since the town first tried to mount a winter celebration, and in many ways the changes are a reflection of how the community as a whole has evolved. Haliburton has grown more sophisticated, more complex, wealthier, and along the way, people have developed a broader, (some would say more cynical) point of view. The simple pleasures that attracted hundreds of people to that first winter carnival despite abysmal weather conditions, no longer satisfy people today. The spirit of cooperation that brought the whole town together in a new and exciting venture still exists, but today it is more fragmented, because people have more things to which they can devote a portion of their free time.

It's too early to say whether or not this year's Haliburton winter carnival will be a success, but it's certain that the present carnival represents a turning point in its history. The carnival is no longer the exciting event that it once was, although it still has an important role to play in the community's life. If there is a 15th addition of the carnival, it must be a revitalized carnival organized in a different way.

In the meantime, support the work that has gone into this year's carnival by attending as many events as you can. And while you're there, consider what is right about the carnival and what, if anything is wrong with it. Because if the carnival is to continue, it must return to its roots and become a community venture once again. And if that happens, new ideas will be needed.

Councillor replies to earlier letters

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

May I please make some comments on the two letters sent in by Mr. John Hancock and Godfrey Saunders?

The County of Haliburton is now faced with two consultants studies: the Haliburton County Strategy Report and the newly released Tourism Development Study, the cost of which (approximately $200,000) was paid by the taxpayers.

However, both reports are in direct conflict with each other and are in total disagreement.

The reason I would tend to agree with the Haliburton Strategy report is because this report concentrated entirely on the county and not as an appendage report to the main Peterborough issue.

Much to my chagrin, I have read the tourism report together with the Strategy report and I find that the inaccuracies that are contained in the tourism report would lead me to believe the staff preparing the report on the Minden area was either, inexperienced, inadequate, or not fully competent.

There was no mention of Minden village and area being serviced with water and sewers for future development, no mention of the County seat as such, no mention of the complete recreational facilities, hardly a mention of our beautiful lakes and parks and the beautiful 35 highway corridor which has been designated as a scenic highway.

Mr. Hancock could possibly be echoing the consultants thoughts when he mentions Halibur-ton as being on Lake Kashagawigamog. For these reasons, our council is committed to doing everything in its power to have this report made void.

Tourism planning is still under the jurisdiction of the County with its offshoot of the Chamber of Commerce. Municipal responsibility is a concise and workable planning by-law which is now being worked out.

Programs at a local level includes parks, recreation, boat launches, roadside improvements and waterway beautification. These programs are expanded each year on a limited budget.

The Minden downtown core, through the B.I.A., have commissioned an engineering report which will be done in April for the purpose of revitalizing the business area. These plans incidentally have been well publicized.

Finally, the new zoning by-law: there has been much public input into the formation of this by-law. Corrections are being made almost daily and hopefully, by the time this by-law is ready for circulation, most of the bugs will be eliminated.

Even after the proposed by-law is circulated, there will still be more time for public input.

Sincerely,
Eddie Pergolas

To the Editor:

A few weeks ago, my father, Roy Bryant, called me with a view to writing his reminiscences of his early years in Haliburton and Victoria Counties to be shared with your readers through the Echo. He had always enjoyed any historical article and your Pic of the Past, and felt he wanted to tell people of his experiences - especially since you often invited your readers to send in stories of bygone days.

Take a chance. We may surprise you

Editor's Notebook

by LEN PIZZEY

Newspaper editors have long recognized the importance of letters from the public. Whether witty and entertaining, scathingly critical or simply informative, letters to the editor are among the best read features of any newspaper.

But it is for more than reasons of readership that letters to the editor are welcomed. When the public speaks out in letters to newspapers, it exercises a right that is disturbingly rare in an increasingly totalitarian world - the right of individual expression and a free press.

Letters to the editor help keep newspapers honest. They give readers an opportunity to have the final say. It is for that reason that letters are almost never commented upon, but left to stand on their own, whether they condemn or praise.

Letters to the editor are never kept from print simply because they express a point of view with which one, or many individuals may disagree. With two important exceptions, every letter received by the Echo is published, provided it is coherent, signed, and cannot be construed as libelous. The exceptions are letters that have been photocopied and sent to dozens of other newspapers - a tactic commonly used by lobby groups and people looking for money - and letters that harangue national politicians, often with McCarthyesque statements. Such letters have a place in national newspapers, but not in community papers that pride themselves on sticking close to home, where the stakes are lower but the risks are more personal.

Letters to the editor are a community forum. You are invited to use them as often as you wish. And don't be afraid to be critical on the grounds that 'they won't publish it anyway'. We'll almost certainly surprise you. And besides, if we want to continue to hand out criticism where we think it's due, we have to be able to take it in return.

Feir Play

I received a letter recently from my good friend George Pratt and in the letter he gives a first hand report on the progress of the Terry Fox Sculpture which he has been working on for the past several months. Here is what the letter has to say.

The work has been in progress since May 20, 1981, being therefore a total of about nine months. I had hoped to complete the work while Terry was still alive, and as it was clear that he was failing, the activity at my yard in those first four weeks were perfectly frantic. His tragic death on June 28 saddened the world as it surely did me - but the pressure to finish was of course alleviated.

I was pleased to be able to slow down - I had chosen granite for the work because as well as being a handsome stone it represents unceasing endurance - a quality exemplified by Terry Fox. I soon found out that it also represents the hardest physical work a stone-carver can do - every chip is the product of nothing else but tenacity and muscle. Lucky for me I have both, if not a surfeit of brains. Anyway, the present pace is much more in keeping with the abilities of my 42 year old body, and with young Michael Binkley (a graduated apprentice) helping, we expect to finish about the end of March.

The arms and legs are pretty much blocked out now and it remains to trim and balance the whole and execute the painstaking job of carving the facial expression - all interesting work.

The sculpture has been funded mainly by private solicitation among those who collect my work. Many who receive this letter have already made contributions. These are placed in an account at First City Trust and disbursements are made by me as necessary to finance the project. I keep a strict accounting of the funds and an audit will be undertaken at the completion of the work. I have a contract with the Cancer Society for the special purpose of providing tax-deductible receipts for your donations - if you have not received yours, please be assured it is in the mail.

But money is still needed - in fact, I'm getting desperate, as the account is bone-dry and there are bills to pay. The base for the sculpture is now under consideration - it will be black sawn granite, assembled to symbolize the highway - and I expect it to cost about $18,000. A similar amount will be needed to complete the main body of the sculpture - that is not to say that work will stop for lack of money - it goes on credit and nerve but I only have so much of both. So if anyone out there would feel moved to make a financial donation, please do it now! Cheques should be made payable to 'The Friends of George Pratt' as this is the name under which the trust account was opened. To date, most individual donations have been $100, several much larger. A few friends who are the heads of corporations have "syndicated" as much as $5000 from their employees and associates - and there is the heart-wrenching letter in my file from a mentally handicapped friend who saw Terry Fox on the highway along with her $20. Whatever your donation, please, it must not be to the diminishment of your normal contribution to the legitimate campaign of the Cancer Society, Heart Fund, etc. This is a special and separate project.

I plan a private unveiling and dedication ceremony in (I think) April. There will be no "officials" or "politicals" or "important" people there. Just the Fox family and the 150 or so donors. As the work progresses and it becomes clear when the appropriate date would be information and invitations will be sent out. Until the 15th of February visitors to the yard are welcome - after that, no more peeking until unveiling!

Sincerely,
George Pratt

The big week-end that we have all been waiting for is just about here. It's time to focus your attention on one of the biggest week-ends of the year. It's that time once again for the annual Haliburton Winter Carnival which will be held this coming Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 19, 20 and 21. We hope that you are enjoying the Haliburton Winter Carnival Supplement which was inserted in last week's issue of the Haliburton County Echo. We have attempted to place extra copies of this supplement in most business places in Haliburton and surrounding area and we hope that you will pick one up now or during Carnival time. Remember that they are free for the asking. All that remains to be said now is that we will see you at the big event and if the weatherman provides us with some good weather we can all look forward to having a very good time. Just a final reminder, now is the time to turn on those coloured lights that you had lit up in front of your homes and place of business over the Christmas holidays.

On Friday morning as I was walking to work I noticed a very high pile of snow all around the advertising sign which is displayed in front of Emmerson Lumber Limited in Haliburton. Instead of the sign showing their daily special there it was in big letters: "Snow For Sale, Real Cheap."

Eleanor Poole from Winnipeg, Manitoba was visiting here for a week with friends and relatives in West Guilford and Haliburton. Eleanor please say hello from all of us to Rick and the rest of your family.

The Jack Robertson Memorial Bonspiel is scheduled for Wednesday, March 3 at the Haliburton Curling Club. The Rotary Club of Haliburton are hoping to have five rinks in the spiel. This is always a very popular event.

The Haliburton Huskies have two important home games this week. They meet Gravenhurst tonight (Wednesday, February 17) at 8:30 p.m. at the local arena and on Sunday they will top off the Winter Carnival by meeting Huntsville at 2:30 p.m.

The Haliburton Winter Carnival is coming up this week-end so we thought it would be a good idea to run a picture from our scrapbook of photos of winter carnivals gone by. This one takes us back to the second Haliburton Winter Carnival when the Haliburton Fire Department played host to the staff from CKLY Lindsay in a broomball game on Saturday afternoon at the Haliburton arena. The

by SUE COOPER

It can be said that the people of Anson, Hindon and Minden deserve the municipal leadership they have; after all, they elected the present council. And there's no doubt that democracy is a fair system. People have the right to elect, or in this municipality's case, not elect whom they choose.

Turn back the hands of time to November, 1980 and a quiet municipal election can be seen in Minden area (or rather the Anson Outcrop as it is affectionately known). It was a deceptive silence. For those who were not connected to the underground wire, it seemed the incumbent reeve would be returned to power. Why not? He had made only a few bad, (or perhaps unfortunate is a better word) decisions. But they cost him his crown.

When the revolt started it was a low murmur and as dissidents found more attentive and sympathetic ears the momentum gathered. People ensured that their relatives and friends of the same political leanings had transportation to the polls; made sure they knew exactly where to put the 'X'. A spoiled ballot could not be afforded. The incumbent reeve was to be overthrown. And he was.

Ahhhhh. The voice of the people. Now this scene may not make your eyes swell with tears or even suggest the slightest twinge of sympathy for the incumbent reeve. And I don't necessarily think it should. But you should shed a tear for Minden.

Back in 1980, the village was progressing. Albeit not a smooth, refined progress, but there were improvements, nonetheless. The controversial library/cultural centre was being built, not in the manner many of us would have liked, but after years and years of deliberation it was finally becoming a reality. (This may be the time to mention that not all the blame for bad decisions rested with the reeve; he had four other men at his table, too.)

Also, back then, there were no empty businesses in the downtown core. Now there are at least five. This is not a sign of the times. There are no similar closures in Haliburton or Wilberforce.

Why then, you ask, are there so many soaped windows in Minden? Has its time as a thriving little town passed? I think not. Minden has many attributes (and a few shortcomings too, but they could be rectified).

The problem is lack of leadership. The municipality needs a reeve who can see the prospects of the future; who can deal effectively with government officials and the local taxpayers; who can plan and organize his council effectively; who is not hesitant to make decisions based on simple facts and who can understand the many intricacies of municipal politics.

Minden's future depends on the next municipal election. Think about it!

Bill Smiley

Looking back over the last year or so is enough to give a chap a bit of depression, to say the least, about the condition of the country and the world. Let's hope we can all win a lottery, or a Nobel prize, or even a game of bingo, in the year ahead.

It was a year of the shooting of a Pope, a president, and thousands upon thousands of less eminent persons.

When the article was written, you, as editor, were contacted, but would not commit yourself in any way. Because of this seeming lack of interest on your part, we decided to submit the article to the Lindsay Post, as well, feeling that their subscribers would be a different group from yours, and that would give us more circulation. Within a week, the Post had published the story.

When our Echo arrived yesterday minus our story again, a telephone call assured us that the article will never be published. Of course, this is your prerogative, but I certainly would like to know your reasons. A lot of work went into that story, and we felt that it would be of interest to many of the residents of Haliburton County. I am positive people would find it of far more interest than the number of visits Mr. and Mrs. Jones pay to their neighbours, the Smiths, the kind of "news" your paper now carries each week.

Your journal should be a service to the community. You are failing badly when you refuse to publish articles on our Canadian heritage. It is a sad commentary on the publishing industry when one man can deprive his subscribers of a small piece of our history!

Cabinet shuffle seen as a good thing

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

It has long been the contention of many, including our own provincial member, John Eakins, that the Ministry of Industry and Tourism should be split into two ministries. It is gratifying to see that it is now being done and we would hope that Tourism now will acquire a higher profile in Queen's Park as a result.

Actually even at the present time the M.I.T. has already been split from the two Assistant Deputy Ministers on down to the fact that we have had two ministry consultants, one from industry and one from tourism, working with us out of Peterborough. About the only immediate change is that the two consultants may not continue to share the same secretary.

We look forward with anticipation to the new structures in hopes that it will bring a more logical and productive approach towards development in both of these sectors.

An Evening for Bruce and Marion

As we mentioned here last week Bruce and Marion Henry have sold Halimar Resort and are retiring to a new home adjacent to Halimar on the shores of Lake Kashagawigamog. Having operated the business for over 30 years they have made a great number of friends both here in this community and throughout the industry in Ontario. Some of those friends are now organizing a special evening to recognize their retirement and pay their sincere respects to Bruce and Marion.

"An Evening for Bruce and Marion" will be held on Sunday, March 7 at Wig-A-Mog Inn commencing with a reception at 5 p.m. and followed by a buffet dinner. New owners Guy and Wendy Ramsay will also be in attendance and they look forward to meeting many of you. The cost is $10 per person and tickets may be reserved by calling either the Chamber at 286-1760 or Wig-A-Mog Inn at 457-2000.

Knowing Bruce and Marion as we do, and the host of well wishers we expect to see there, this is bound to be an evening to be long remembered by

by John Eakins, MPP

Rarely through this column do I quote excerpts from speeches of political leaders. Recently, Stuart Smith resigned as the leader of the party I represent, and following his last speech to the Legislature on December 18, 1981, he was given an ovation by all members of all parties in the House. This once, I would like to quote from his address, in which he expressed the belief that our greatest asset is the people of Ontario - people who should have more confidence in their own abilities.

Following are some excerpts from his 18th December speech on this topic.

"I am very impressed with the people of this province...reflect for a moment about the people of Ontario - the farmers, the miners, the loggers, the people who have shown tremendous courage, tremendous steadfastness, great rockhard integrity - people who have a willingness to work, to face difficulties.

"...Our immigrant communities are a source of enormous energy, power and strength. I sometimes have the sense that we are not harnessing that sufficiently..."

"I look at our young people...who have a great optimism about the world. They want to contribute. They have energy. They have enthusiasm. They have tremendous natural talent... They are a tremendous generation of people. It honestly worries me...that all of us collectively are not perhaps providing the system these young people are going to need if they are to bring their talents, their enthusiasm and their desire to bear to make a maximum contribution to our society and its advancement.

"I look at our factory workers. I hear all kinds of things about unions, about strikes and everything else. But comparing our factory workers to any group of industrial workers in the world I think they are a very law-abiding, basically very loyal group of people who, if given proper direction and management want to do a decent job."

"Why have we not harnessed the vitality of our people into tough competitive teams that could take on the best the industrialized world has to offer?"

"...Somehow we as Canadians have come to define ourselves in terms of our land, our geography, our water, our mountains and our forests...we do not have that same inner confidence in ourselves as people as we have in the

Congratulations Walter

Almost all of our members by now have met or talked to Walter Thomas, our sales representative for advertising in this year's publications. Walter worked so hard at that project it is amazing that he found time to enter a contest, but he did, and he almost won.

The Toronto Star's quiz on Ontario lists Walter as one of their "Runners Up" for which he receives a copy of "A Picture History of Ontario" autographed by the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario. To be a runner up means that he had all the questions answered correctly but his entry was not drawn before the winner. Way to go Walter!

Economic Forecast

It is becoming a real guessing game as to what is going to happen with our sick economy and what, if anything, the government is going to do to deal with it. The Cambridge Chamber of Commerce recently hosted a function at which their guest speaker was Morton Shulman and he, as usual, had some predictions. He said that within the next 10 months we will see the government lower the interest rates, re-introduce wage and price controls and the Canadian dollar would be pegged at .75 cents U.S. With these restraint measures he predicted that we would get along quite well for about three years, and then once again we would experience difficulties as they attempted to lift controls. It will certainly be interesting to watch and see how close he comes to calling this one.

The action was fast and furious around the net when Burnt River met Wilberforce in a consolation semi final game at a one day men's tournament in Haliburton.

Saturday. Wilberforce won the game by a single goal, 5-4.

OMHA Midgets win in first round playoffs

Haliburton's OMHA Midgets have defeated Beaverton in the first round of the playoffs and will now advance against Cannington. After splitting the first two games of the series, the local Midgets ensured their right to move on with consecutive wins on Thursday and Sunday.

Beaverton gave Haliburton trouble in the first game of the series, but in the next three the local club was never really threatened on the scoreboard.

Despite the home ice advantage for games three and four, and some chippy play, Beaverton found the Haliburton club a little too tough around the net.

Thursday, Haliburton scored first and netted a total of four while holding the home team to just two.

Scott Rae put Haliburton in front, assisted by Kelly Mitchell, but Beaverton came back with one before the period ended to tie things up.

In the second period, Haliburton began to move away, as Kevin Warburton scored unassisted, and Rae got his second with help from Jeff Bain and Fred Roberts.

In the third, Haliburton put the game out of reach with a goal by Kelly Mitchell, assisted by Warburton.

Beaverton's second marker, with just 3:44 left to play, was all they could muster as Haliburton skated to a 4-2 win and a 2-1 lead in the series.

Beaverton again played host to Haliburton on Sunday, and again they were simply outplayed.

Neither team managed to net one in the first period, and in the second, only Beaverton could find the mark, taking the lead at 7:09.

Haliburton really opened up in the third period, however, netting four unanswered goals to end the series.

Scoring were Stephen Smith unassisted, Kelly Mitchell from Barry Boice and Drew Bishop, Scott Rae from Scott Mitchell, and Jamie Bennett with help from Kevin Warburton and Bernie Upton.

This Wednesday the Midgets are expected to open their series against Cannington in Cannington. Thursday and Sunday they'll be at home for games two and three of the series.

Minden loses in championship

A team from Beaverton were the big winners of the first annual men's hockey tournament in Haliburton Saturday, outscoring Minden 9-1 to earn a trophy and $250.

On the consolation side, Wilberforce made short work of Scarborough, skating to a 6-1 win that earned them a trophy and $125.

Haliburton's entry looked strong in their first match but bowed out in the second round to the high scoring Beaverton squad.

Action began at 8 a.m. as Haliburton faced off against Wilberforce. The Wilberforce team got off to a slow start and despite holding Haliburton scoreless in the second period, they were simply outplayed by Haliburton's hard shooting forwards and solid defense, losing 6-0.

Haliburton's goals came from Mike Easton, Roger Bain and Rick Wood in the first period, and from Steve Roberts with two and Bain with one more in the third.

Larry Hartin registered the shutout for Haliburton.

The second game saw Beaverton roll over Burnt River 7-2.

In the third game, Minden skated to a 5-2 win over Peterborough.

John Barkwell put Minden ahead 1-0 in the first period, and Jerry Campbell made it 2-0 early in the second before Peterborough narrowed the gap to one. Barkwell's second goal made it 3-1 going into the third.

Peterborough again moved to within one goal as the clock wound down, but it was as close as they could come. Marvin West and Shane McKelvey notched two more to ensure the win for Minden.

Completing the first round schedule, Fenelon Falls defeated Scarborough 7-4.

On the consolation side, Wilberforce met Burnt River for what proved to be a close match.

The team from Monmouth Township quickly took a three goal lead as Mark Bowman, Glen Watson and Randy Franksy each found the mesh. Burnt River then netted one to get on the board, but Wayne Hughes re-established a three goal lead for Wilberforce as the period ended.

In the second, Burnt River staged a comeback, netting two goals while tying up Wilberforce completely.

The third period saw Wilberforce move ahead by two on a goal by Randy Barras, while Burnt River was unable to add any more until the final seconds, when a single goal scored by David Hanuey was too late to change the outcome.

Final score was Wilberforce 5, Burnt River 4.

In the other consolation match, Scarborough got by Peterborough 3-1 to earn the right to face Wilberforce in the final.

That game proved to be an easy one for Wilberforce, as they skated to a 6-1 win on goals by Randy Barras with three, Wayne Hughes with two and Ken Ablett with one.

Haliburton's hopes were dashed in the semi final round on the championship side as the luck of the schedule put them against the tournament's top team, Beaverton.

Things looked good for Haliburton in the first period, as Steve Roberts scored two and Paul Morrisette got one before Beaverton got on the board with a single goal.

In the second period the local team began to fade, however, as Beaverton scored three to take the lead.

In the third period they made it 5-3 before Bob Woodcock's goal put Haliburton back in contention.

But Beaverton wasted little time in getting an insurance marker, then held Haliburton off to take a 6-4 win.

The other championship semi final match was marred by a bench clearing brawl as old rivalries flared between Minden and Fenelon Falls.

When the donkeybrook was finally brought to a halt and the teams returned to hockey, four players were ejected from the tournament and Minden registered a 2-0 victory.

The final match for top honours was a one sided affair. Beaverton scored almost at will against Minden, netting nine goals to Minden's one by Dave Hartwick.

Proceeds from the tournament, close to $500, will be donated to Haliburton Minor Hockey.

Bantams fight back diligently

Two wins save team from being ousted by Beaverton

The Haliburton Bantams, who faced elimination after the first two games of their series with Beaverton, fought back to capture the series with another two wins last Tuesday and Sunday evenings.

They will now face Cannington in another three out of five set that promises to be closely fought all the way.

Cannington eliminated Millbrook in three games so are rested and have been waiting for several days. The first game of the series will be played as this paper is going to press on Tuesday night with the second game in Haliburton on Thursday night at 7 p.m.

The Haliburton club must come up with some good hockey in order to defeat the highly rated Cannington club.

The local team came up with another 5 to 1 win in their own rink last Tuesday to force the fifth and final game in Beaverton last Sunday. The boys met the challenge and although the game was not up to their standards, Vince Duchene came up with an outstanding game in the Haliburton net in order for the club to skate away with a 1 to 0 win. The game was very tight with most of the Haliburton Midgets and their parents and coaches in attendance to help cheer the Bantams to their victory.

Unfortunately for the Beaverton club the only goal, credited to Mike MacNaull, was scored on a long bloop that the goalie mishandled and let trickle into the net. The goal was scored at the

On Wednesday, February 3, the Minden Figure Skating Club hosted a test day with six clubs participating. Skaters came from Bancroft, Haliburton, Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Peterborough and Minden to try their tests.

Out of a total of 54 tests tried, only eight failed. Minden Club members passed 22 tests.

Minden skaters tried and passed the following tests: Pre-freeskate - Tanya Willis, Tammy Pritchard, Jennifer Gentle and Joanne Kerr.

Preliminary Figure - Misti Campbell and Jennifer Gentle;

Dutch Waltz - Misti Campbell, Tanya Willis, Christa Irwin, Julie Hall, Sara Lee Henderson and Jennifer Gentle.

Canasta - Sandy Bailey, Misti Campbell, Tanya Willis, Christa Irwin, Julie Hall, Sara Lee Henderson, and Jennifer Gentle.

Swing - Joanne Kerr and Tammy Pritchard.

Fiesta - Werna Blakey.

three minute mark of the second period. Ian Cooper received an assist.

The third period was very exciting as Beaverton, who had outshot Haliburton to this point in the game, applied some pressure only to have Duchene come up with some big saves. Haliburton received three penalties in the last six minutes to also add to the excitement as McKnight, Blake and Cooper on the defence were able to hold the fort through the dying minutes. LaPorte and MacNaull did a lot of skating and the perseverance of the rest of the team paid off with the club's biggest win of the season.

The Tuesday game was less exciting as Beaverton opened the scoring with 3 minutes left in the opening period only to have Tran LaRue tie the game on passes from MacNaull and Blake with only 3 seconds left. The Lindsay referees kept the game well under control, awarding four penalties to Haliburton and three to Beaverton. The local boys continued to skate well and put the game out of control as they scored four unanswered goals in the second period. The goals were scored by Len Johnston from LaPorte and McKee, LaPorte from Johnston and MacNaull, Johnston from Blake, and LaRue unassisted.

The referees called 13 penalties in the third period with both teams receiving their share. Tom Bragg from Beaverton received a match penalty for butt ending Cory McKnight in the last minute of play and was suspended indefinitely, missing the final game of the series.

Haliburton held a practice on Monday night and the coaches feel that the club will be in good shape to win the next series if they can keep up their momentum. If the Haliburton club can win the flip for the odd games of the series, then they should have a game in Haliburton this Thursday at 7 and another game in Haliburton next Tuesday. If they lose the flip the third game will be in Cannington next Tuesday.

Burnt River's Brent Handley tries to take the puck away from Wilberforce's Wayne Hughes in a consolation semi final of the men's tournament in Haliburton Saturday. Beaverton took the championship, while Wilberforce took the consolation final.

Atoms stymied in tourney

On Saturday, February 13 the Haliburton Tri-County Atom team travelled to Fencelon Falls for a one day tournament. Their first game, against Norwood, was a hard played contest with Norwood scoring twice in the first period and once in the third for a final score of Norwood 3, Haliburton 0. Despite the score, Haliburton's goalie Callum Wood played a strong game, time and time again robbing Norwood of good scoring chances.

In the second game Haliburton was scored on early in the first period and never got it all together. They tried hard but were defeated 8-0.

On Monday, February 15 the team travelled to Beaverton for the first game of a two out of three playoff. It was a well played game as Haliburton put a lot of pressure but were stopped on several good scoring chances. The first and second periods were scoreless. Beaverton scored early in the third and with just a few seconds to go, scored their second goal for a 2-0 victory.

Beaverton travelled to Haliburton for the second game at 7 p.m. Tuesday, February 16. It is a must win situation for Haliburton.

The Annual Glen Dart Memorial Tournament will be played in Haliburton on Saturday, March 13. Further details will follow.

Nicholls tops 100 mark

Second Huskie in history to beat the record

With nine points against Oro Friday, Haliburton Huskies left winger Dave Nicholls has become only the second Huskie in history to amass more than 100 points in a single season. Nicholls scored four goals and assisted on five others in a 10-10 tie against the 77's, then added an assist in a 6-4 loss to Penetanguishene on Saturday to push his season point total to 105. With five games left to go in the regular season Nicholls has scored 49 goals and racked up 56 assists. The West Guilford native is now vying with Ron Yake, who topped the 100 mark earlier this season, for the title of the Huskies all time top scorer.

Nicholls' accomplishment was the brightest spot in an otherwise lack-lustre weekend for the Huskies, who have been struggling to gain a playoff spot in recent outings. Things have not gone well for the local club in the latter part of the season, despite the scoring punch of Nicholls, Yake, and Tim Davies, the team's most potent line.

Registering a tie and a loss over the week-end, the Huskies have fallen below the 50 per cent mark, 37 games into the season. The team's record now stands at 17 wins, 18 losses and two ties.

In Friday's match in Oro, the Huskies found themselves trailing badly at the mid point of the second period, but staged an impressive rally to salvage a 10-10 tie.

The first period was a high scoring affair, as each team racked up five goals.

Ron Yake put the Huskies on the board, assisted by Nicholls, and he added another in a short-handed situation, assisted by Duff Mitchell and Nicholls. Other goals came from Nicholls, assisted by Yake and Davies, Davies from Nicholls and Yake on a power play, and Scott Arbuthnot assisted by Chris Hodgson.

In the second period the

Dave Nicholls

Huskies had trouble containing the 77's, and soon found themselves trailing 9-5. But with their backs to the wall, they fought back to net three goals in the final minutes of the period. Dave Nicholls got all three of the Huskies markers, assisted by Davies on the first one and Ron Yake on the other two.

The Huskies carried the momentum into the third period, but remained behind by one until two goals within a minute near the 11 minute mark put them out in front. Davies goal tied the score, assisted by Nicholls, and a little over a minute later, Scott Arbuthnot teamed up with Nicholls and goaltender Colin Newell for the go-ahead marker.

The Huskies held on until the final seconds, when Oro netted one to end the contest in a tie.

Penetang made the trip to Haliburton on Saturday night, and despite a less than favourable result on the scoreboard, the game was an entertaining one for local fans.

Ed Davis opened the scoring for the Huskies, assisted by Shaun Chapman, but Penetang came back to net two and take the lead before the period ended.

The visitors moved in front by two at 5:24 of the second period but Davis got his second, unassisted, at 5:52 to move the Huskies within one again.

At the eight minute mark, on a power play, Darrin MacInnes tied the score, and the Huskies looked like they were on their way to a win. But a charging penalty against Duff Mitchell gave Penetang the advantage, and they capitalized on it, moving back in front at 12:04.

Penetang continued to pressure the Huskies in the third period, and added two more to their lead, putting the game out of reach.

With three and a half minutes left to play, Ron Yake moved Haliburton to within two, assisted by Arbuthnot and MacInnes, but they could come no closer, and had to be content with a 6-4 loss.

The Huskies will be at home this Wednesday night against Gravenhurst, to make up a game that was cancelled earlier because of bad weather.

Friday, they'll return to the regular schedule and travel to Gravenhurst to meet the Indians.

Sunday, the Huskies will be back at home against Huntsville for the next to last home game of the season.

Steamrollers still in lead

The Steamrollers have widened their lead over the other five teams of the Tuesday Bowling League by winning the maximum 21 points on February 9. The Road Runners are still in second place and third place was taken over by the Troopers. The Misfits are now in fourth place, the Bloopers in fifth and the Dambusters in sixth.

Triples of 600 and over were rolled by Virna Wagg 642, Millie Boskett 621, Tom Hurtt 609 and Harry Henderson 606.

Senior League

by Bert Harrison

February 7 we started off the week with a chapel service Sunday night and the folks who put it on do it up just right. Mrs. Thompson helps in singing and also does the playing. Harold Thompson reads the lesson, and also leads in praying. Then Rev. Burgess takes the floor, and is our special guest. If we'll confess our sins, and say our prayers, we surely will be blessed.

Monday morning there was fun and fitness, then Monday afternoon the ladies worked really hard in the Craft room. We watched three nice movies on Monday night.

Tuesday morning Rev. Wicks of Minden Gospel Church held the service in the chapel here. We always welcome Rev. Wicks, he is so sincere. Our girls who come to play, and sing, add greatly to our service. They do their parts so very well, and don't seem one bit nervous.

Mrs. Knight had her ninety-seventh birthday, one day last week. She reads without glasses, and always looks so neat.

Tuesday night Payne, Deacon and Crowe came to play and sing for us - the put on a really good show.

Ted Carr is making bird houses, and flower baskets, too. He has just discovered he is allergic to the glue.

Just received word of the passing of Annie Fountain. She was a dear sweet lady. Our sympathy to her relations.

Wednesday afternoon was spent in the Crafts room again, doing all kinds of fancy work - really no place for men.

Thursday afternoon is tea party time here at Hyland Crest. The Lutterworth Estate ladies came and were our welcome guests. They brought us in a lovely lunch, and served it up so fine. We thank them all for coming, and giving of their time.

The Kinsmen Club of Minden put on the Bingo here last night. I wasn't there to see it, but they say they do it right. Friday morning was Fun and Fitness again. Lots of ladies, but not many men. Friday afternoon was singing time again here. Mrs. Cobourn and Mrs. Baron came to play and sing to give us much cheer. Mrs. Cobourn sang two solos, which we enjoyed very much; Norma played so nicely, she really has the touch.

More on the heart...

Smoking increases chance of coronary

To Puff, or Not to Puff?

In 1964, the U.S. Surgeon General released his report linking cigarette smoking to death from heart and lung disease. In the ensuing years a vast amount of publicity has been given to this subject with consequences that are contradictory to say the least.

There is no doubt that the great majority of Canadians - young and old - are aware of the health hazards of cigarette smoking. However, the tobacco companies have not gone bankrupt. On the contrary, their annual sales have been increasing steadily, though many changes have taken place in their products. Although population growth and exports may account for some of the increase, current sales do constitute a danger sign of major proportions.

Canadian adult males seem to have got the message, because there has been a significant decrease in their per capita consumption, but adult females are still smoking at the same rate as 18 years ago. Among teenagers, the per capita consumption of cigarettes by boys is relatively unchanged, whereas there has been a substantial increase in smoking among girls. This is disturbing because these future mothers not only injure themselves; they could harm a generation yet unborn. They will be a bad example to their children and it has been clearly established that the earlier people start on cigarettes, the greater risk of heart disease.

Cigarette smoking does increase the chances of disability and death from coronary disease, cancer and other disorders. The carbon monoxide in cigarette smoke robs the heart of oxygen and weakens the force of every beat. At the same time, the nicotine makes the heart demand more oxygen simultaneously interfering with the electrical impulses that keep it beating.

The question is not whether cigarette smoking is injurious to health, but what to do about it.

The Canadian Heart Foundation says "don't start". If, however, you are a smoker - give it up! For those who have difficulty in quitting, many programmes are available in the community to assist and doctors can prescribe appropriate medication to help those patients who want to give up cigarettes. If you can't stop smoking completely, the next best thing is to cut down the number of cigarettes per day, as the risk of heart attack increases from two to ten times that of the non-smoker depending on the quantity smoked.

Among those who give up smoking, the death rate from coronary heart disease decreases steadily and eventually approaches that of people who have never smoked. Also, in individuals who stop smoking abnormal changes in body tissue - such as occur in the lungs or bronchial tubes - may gradually revert towards normal.

Diehard smokers and tobacco companies may claim that new filters reduce the danger by cutting substantially tars and nicotine, but most scientists feel that these claims have not been substantiated by well-documented scientific data. As for the super-long cigarettes, the general feeling is that they only increase the smoker's risk by giving him more to smoke.

If you are a smoker, why not take a positive step to better heart health by giving up your cigarettes today. Remember, if you are also a parent, your example may well decide your children's attitude to smoking and their

Shrove Tuesday pancakes tradition began in 1944

Pancake suppers on Shrove Tuesday sponsored by St. George's Anglican Church were started in 1944 by the then Rector's wife Mrs. Kerr.

The first suppers were cooked in the basement of the town hall and had to be served upstairs. When the demand was greater than could be met, more pancakes were made across the road at Madeline Austin's and at the restaurant at the foot of Highland Street then owned by Hugh Burke. Men were detailed to rush the pancakes up to the Town Hall before they had a chance to cool off.

After a period of time the W.A. ladies were able to use the Orange Hall which had a large wood-burning stove. Those years are remembered for the extreme heat of the kitchens although it was more convenient to supply the pancakes.

After the Anglican church kitchen was renovated and an electric stove purchased, the suppers were held in the church basement.

Since 1967 the pancakes have been served in the spacious Parish Hall.

The supper will take place from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. next Tuesday, February 23.

Fortunately, the two Big P's survived, but most of the little ones didn't.

Despite the dread threat of sanctions, economic and otherwise, the Russians are still in Afghanistan, and it serves them right. They are finding it about as easy to conquer those crazy Moslems as the Yanks did to subdue those crazy Viet Cong communists.

It was a year in which Poland hit the headlines, and stayed there, with a big, black question mark looming up for 1982.

The Irish, of course, kept knocking off each other with the gay abandon that has been their trademark for years.

In Central and South America, dictatorships continued to slaughter and torture anyone who disagreed, while the world looked on calmly, and in some democracies, benevolently.

In Canada, things went from bad to worse. A massive economic slump began that is not going to improve much this year, according to most analysts. Inflation proceeded merrily. Thousands upon thousands lost their jobs as plants closed, small businesses went bankrupt under crushing interest rates, and the same factor brought to an almost absolute halt all types of building and expansion.

But never mind. We now have an oil company all of our own, and a quarter of one in Ontario, even though the big companies are heading out of Canada for greener pastures as fast as they can load up their equipment.

Despite the best-laid plans of all the mice in Ottawa, the massive national deficit increased, and everyone in a position to do so, from town councillors to M.P.'s, voted himself a substantial increase in salary.

The bickering and squabbling and in-fighting over the patriation of the constitution revealed the littleness and insularity and regionalism of our country, with everybody wanting to get his nose into the trough, but nobody wanting to pump the pump or dump the swill.

This final agreement on a patchwork constitution sent Rene Levesque home in a sulk. Not unusual, but he was badly shaken when his own party dumped on him and demanded independence for Quebec.

With the neglect of years building to a climax, the Canadian Armed Forces grew steadily more pathetic. Personnel of about 90,000 to defend one of the largest countries in the world. More than half of them not fighting men, but people pushing paper around, or cooking, or doing something equally glorious. Practicing warfare with obsolete weaponry and low morale.

Our defence budget is lowest of any country involved in NATO, with the exception of Luxemburg. Maybe we should declare war on that tiny principality, to show the world that we are still a proud and gallant nation. Trouble is, we might get licked.

And just to top off a great year, along came that black budget covered with white-wash, that promised more equity in taxation. For "equity" read: the rich stay rich, the poor stay poor, and the middle-class get a punch in the paunch. The budget is a deliberate invitation not to invest in your country's future.

Let the government do that for you, with its oil companies, it's hefty aid to industries that are going down in the quagmire, its taxes on everything but breath. Not death. Death is taxed.

I could go on for weeks, but so could anybody else. Let's turn to the sports scene for a little comic relief. Montreal Expos blew it again. Ferragamo, the millionaire quarterback for Montreal Alouettes, was a fat flop. And Les Canadiens were blown out of Stanley Cup playoffs by a bunch of kids from Edmonton.

Toronto* provided more comic relief. Once again it had the worst baseball team in the pros, the worst football team in Canada, and one of the poorest teams in the NHL.

Again, I could go on. It was not a bumper year. But there were some bright spots, and let's remember them, to cheer us up at least to the point where there isn't a national orgy of wrist-slashing.

Like a shining star in the shoddy charade of the so-called National Hockey League was the performance of Wayne Gretzky. At 20, he played with a grace, skill, finesse and strength that had even our morbid sports scribes raving. Hope he scores 100 goals and adds some of his class to the sorry spectacle pro hockey has become.

Our skiers had a great year internationally and both men and women are now in the top ranks. Our swimmers grabbed many a medal in international competition.

Finally, let's hear it for that great junior hockey team, who put some tinsel on the year's end by winning a gold medal and beating the Europeans at their own game, and cleanly.

He was talking of the Lake Kashagawigamog and Glebe Park trail network and went on to say that he hoped we realized what a valuable asset they were. What more can we say?

Balloon at the Carnival - we hope

The Haliburton Winter Carnival gets rolling this week and among some of the new features will be the Skydiver balloon. (weather permitting). The balloon was also scheduled for the Minden Carnival but was unable to operate due to the severe weather.

This will be an excellent opportunity to view the crowd pleasing attraction that will be flying over "Haliburton Highlands - Yours to Discover" message at shopping malls across metro shortly.

We are pleased to announce that as of this morning our $8000 target for this project has been reached. Further donations will still be gratefully accepted and used towards the assembly of an attractive information kiosk to take to the malls.

Let's hear it for all of you who made this super promotional endeavour possible.

DISTRICT NEWS

Guilford Pulse Beat

by Bill Wood

Hi folks. I received many calls this week with some interesting news items. Evelyn Stata, of the "Home Support Services", called to tell me that the "Wheels to Meals" program will be having fine, nourishing meals for all area senior citizens. The meals will be served on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at "Bernie's Place" in West Guilford. The meals will be $3 per person, and following the meals, the senior citizens will be enjoying movies and slides at the West Guilford Community Centre. Tuesday, February 23, Marvin Varty will be showing slides that he took while on his interesting holiday in Japan. I am certain that there will be a large turnout for this "Wheels to Meals" program. Further information and details may be had by phoning Evelyn Stata at 754-2204.

This week-end will be a very busy one for everyone in the area. Haliburton village will be hosting their annual winter carnival. The festivities will begin Friday, February 19 through Sunday the 21st. Many events, shows, and entertainments will certainly draw huge crowds of people from other areas as well as our own. A tip of the "Good Neighbour" hat to all the fine people responsible for the carnival and to the municipal road crews for clearing the snow in the area to make parking spaces in the downtown core. A hard job very well done.

Keep Saturday, February 20 open for the dance at the West Guilford Community Centre. The licensed dance starts at 8:30 p.m. and tickets may be purchased at the door for $8 per couple.

The dancers will be entertained by that fine band "The Misty River Ramblers." A great time should be had by all.

Four area people have traded their snowshoes and winter coats for sand pails and balmy breezes in sunny Florida. Joy Fielding and Minnie Dawson are on a month long bus tour. Ken and Ruth Sawyer are also on holiday there. I bet they will miss the snow like I miss a trip to the dentist. Lucky people.

Mrs. Eleanor Poole, from Winnipeg, Manitoba, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Andy Sisson, of West Guilford. Eleanor has the Haliburton Echo mailed to Winnipeg and wanted her name printed in the paper. After her week long holiday Eleanor Poole flew home Sunday, February 14 to be with her Valentine. We all hope she had a nice visit and safe journey home.

Think our mail service is slow? George and Edna Tipton, received a letter from England post-dated November 27, 1861. It seems someone at the English home town post office set the year stamp upside down. I wonder how many other pieces of mail were stamped that way before they caught the mistake. 120 years is a long time for a first-class letter to be on the road before delivery is made.

Two more sets of twins for Alf and Phyllis Sisson. It seems the stork made two trips to Alf's barn in two days and dropped a pair of "kids" each time. The nanny mothers are doing fine and it is hard to tell which is prouder, the father "Billy" or "Alfie".

Two household hints of the week come from Alf Sisson, too. 1. To remove a nut that is rusted on a bolt, use a few drops of tincture of iodine on the nut. Another one or two applications may be needed if the nut remains stubborn. 2. If the zipper on any garment constantly troubles you by sticking or grabbing, rub the tip of an ordinary pencil over the closed parts a few times.

This puts a layer of dry graphite on the teeth of the zipper thus lubricating it.

Thank you Alf. I have noticed that there have been a lot of bad accidents at this time of the year with snowmobiles. This sport is expensive enough, with the cost of gas, oil, insurance, etc. It is a shame to add extra expense for damage repair or loss of work time due to an accident. Let's cool it on the trails and roads, folks, and you can enjoy this great sport all winter long.

Snowmobilers Snowmobilers roar the trails so happy and free, But, really lose the race when they tie with a tree;

So folks, be very careful on your next snowy run. Just slow 'er down and you'll have much more fun.

I believe that a card or call from her friends would be appreciated by Mrs. Alma Morrison. Alma is in St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough for an operation on her hip. I hope this column finds Alma on her way to a speedy recovery.

Many thanks to all the contributors who sent in items for this week's column. Please write my number (754-2854) next to your phone as my number is not listed in the book. Please call if you have any items for next week's publication.

Little new snow, bearable temperatures - who needs Florida? Just keep saying "not me, not me" and by May you may even believe it.

On Saturday morning the first annual Gary Agnew Memorial Hockey tournament was opened with a prayer by Canon Moore Smith. A good number of enthusiasts were on hand to watch Philip Agnew drop the puck for the first face-off to officially start the tournament. Seven out-of-town teams from Peterborough, Norwood and Beaverton took part in the Midget series providing all-day entertainment for the many viewers. Our Elephant Lake team was eliminated in a close second game which resulted in their Norwood competitors eventually coming out the consolation winners. Immaculate Conception swept right through to the final game where they met their match in George St. United who took home the Championship trophy. There were also beautiful trophies awarded to the two most valuable players, and commemorative medallions were presented to the members of the four finalist teams, all of which were donated by Agnew's Red and White Store. Certainly a fine beginning for what will be an annual event, and a fine memorial tribute to Gary to whom this community meant so much, and likewise, who was so loved by its people. Special thanks and congratulations to Jack Detler whose organization and efforts played no small part in producing a successful day.

Later that evening it was wheels on ice, as a Bed Race took place. Apparently not only cars suffer breakdowns! It was good fun and the Legion team proved to be the pros. In separate periods of more traditional sport the Midget and Kinsmen teams took on the CHEX Chickens while a large blue bird entertained the kids. Susan Rivers was the lucky winner of a clock, while Dave Nicholson took home a Glass Heart in draws by the Figure Skating Club and Inter-City hockey team.

An enjoyable Valentine's party was attended Friday night by about 20 youngsters at the Library. Refreshments, games and a good time were the order of the night. On Wednesday, February 17, a book exchange will take place so if you feel you've exhausted the present selection, it will be a good time to come in and check out the new variety. Regarding the courses sponsored by Sir Sandford Fleming, they've enjoyed a good response and are being held at the Library. Creative Stitchery is now in progress while Cake Decorating, and Wok cooking are upcoming.

Another surprise was sprung at the Legion this past Friday, a birthday party hosted by friends and neighbours for Mrs. Nora Billings. Daughter Flo provided a beautifully decorated cake, and Mrs. Billings received a lovely pot of yellow mums, as well as a gift from the Legion ladies. A nice evening even if you did have to take your own pickles. Mrs. Billings! We wish you all the best.

Don't forget the Minor Hockey ski doo rally this Saturday. Harcourt Hall is the place. There's also a Spaghetti Dinner and dance following. Enjoy and support with a choice of events; what more could you ask?

There's a Curling Bonspiel this Friday evening and Saturday, 6:00 p.m. and 8:00 a.m. respectively, with twelve teams participating. Spectators most welcome.

The Inter-City Tire met Bancroft Sports Centre Friday night in a closely matched game, the second of the series. Those tie scores right through the third period seem to have become a standard. Randy Barras came through with just seconds remaining resulting in a 5-4 win. Next game is Friday, February 19 in Wilberforce. Saturday the team took part in a tournament in Haliburton, defeating Scarborough to win the overall "B" Championship. Way to go guys!

Peter Neary, associate professor at the University of Western Ontario, along with Professor Patrick O'Flaherty of Memorial University are currently working on a book of the history of Newfoundland. This is to be an illustrative work and it is hoped that some of you out there may have or know of some picture of a Rev. Philip Tocque who served in St. James Anglican Church in Kinmount, circa 1868. Rev. Tocque was the author of several books on Newfoundland and was the Island's first really important man of letters. If you happen to have such a picture and if you would consider letting these gentlemen make a copy for use in their book, please give Rev. Brooks a call at 488-2995 or myself at 488-2399. As the book is in its final stages an early reply would be appreciated.

Sincere sympathy is extended to family and friends of Bill Lambert of Kirkfield and Gordon Swanton of Kinmount who passed away last week.

World Day of Prayer will be celebrated at St. Patrick's Church in Kinmount, Friday, March 5 at 2 p.m.

Lyn Tucker of Nogies Creek was the lucky winner of $140 won on the fifty-fifth number at Father Hart's bingo in Bobcaygeon last Monday evening.

The $200 jackpot was won on the sixtieth number at the Kinmount Legion bingo last Friday evening.

Bob Allen is now in St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto and we hope to hear better news of him soon.

Helen Graham has been on the sick list this past week or so and I hope she'll be better soon. The old ceramics class just isn't the same without her.

I hope Jack Pyke's sick spell is behind him too. A very happy birthday albeit belated, is wished for Mrs. Mary Hills who celebrated her eighty-seventh on February 9. Mrs. Hills is mother to Jack Hills of RR1, Kinmount.

Visitors this past week at the home of Mrs. M. Pyke were Rothera Bryant, Darrell Janke and Merle Campbell, all of Norland, Ida and Clyde Pardy of Cobocok, Amy and Larry Coker of Utterson, Ontario, and Alan Campbell of Carrying Place.

Fred Knight of Gooderham was the winner of $21.50 in the Kinmount Legion 50/50 draw, Saturday, February 6.

Results of the euchre party at Galway Hall Wednesday, February 10: ladies' high: Maxine Cross, ladies' low:

Ida Young, men's high: Doug Drinkle, men's low: Bill Menard, most lone hands: Frank Franzen.

I hear Jack Hills paid his doctor a visit last week. Can't keep the good guys down so get better soon.

There were seven tables of euchre players at the St. James euchre party Tuesday, February 9 when Ruby Holbrook took ladies' high, Ann Cain ladies' low, Bill Menard men's high, Helen Jones men's low and a draw involving four or five people took place, with Ambrose Watson being the winner.

Gooderham News

Pat Thorne, Grace Billings, and Maurine Finlay attended the U.C.W. Presbyterian at Cambridge St. United Church, Lindsay, last week.

Little Amanda Dovell, six month old daughter of Sandra and Dale Dovell, spent a few days in Haliburton Red Cross Hospital last week suffering from pneumonia. We are pleased to report that she has recovered sufficiently to be able to return to her home.

Mrs. Susie Madill is still a patient at Haliburton hospital. She is much improved and expects to come home in a day or so.

Gary Cary has returned from hospital where he underwent surgery for sinus problems, which, we hope, are now ended.

Barbara and Doug Higgins of Mississauga spent last week-end with Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cary. They were accompanied by Marilyn Shunt, a friend of Pearl's while she was in hospital.

Mrs. Joe Cary, with her son, Josh, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Baker, in Oshawa.

Mervyn Switzer, with his wife, Doreen, called in at Albert Cary's on his way to Tory Hill. He reported that his mother, Mrs. Reuben Switzer, had been transferred from a nursing home in Bobcaygeon to Lindsay.

The Gooderham Gazette came together for a supper meeting at the United Church last Monday. The evening concluded with activities at the Community Centre.

One indication of the unsafe condition of our lakes was underlined last week when a horse fell through the ice at Minnick Lake. Fortunately, quick action brought the poor creature to safety when another horse at the scene was used to draw it out.

Bruce Staley is in hospital at Peterborough where he underwent surgery last Friday. He is progressing favourably and may be transferred to Haliburton Hospital again soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Reynolds of Lindsay visited their cottage on Little Bear Lake last week.

A visit to our school (a hive of happy activity) is always a delightful experience. Mrs. Bailey's class made cookies for their Valentine party. Mrs. Miller's pupils are studying Indian life. Since corn was so widely used, their project included making corn meal muffins. Some of the pupils' creative art is on display at the Community Centre. This is changed from time to time. Don't forget to view it on your next visit.

Gooderham Stump Jumpers Snowmobile Rally, held last Saturday was an outstanding success. In the early afternoon about 40 snowmobilers gathered for their ride of about 30 miles which took about three hours to complete. The route took them from the Community Centre along the Haliburton Snowmobile Trail, Minnick Lake Road, old Buckhorn Road, to Long Lake, Lake Wenona, Loon Lake, Little Bear and Big Bear lakes, Wolfe Lake, to Pine Lake. On returning, all seemed to report good conditions and an enjoyable ride even if a bit bumpy at times. Upon entering the Community Centre, the tantalizing odours of dinner being served seemed just what was needed to finish the ride. Everyone received generous servings of a delicious roast beef dinner and a choice of pie. The young waitresses, as usual, did an excellent job. It was an occasion to extend congratulations and best wishes to Aileen and Ken Maguire, and also to Mr. and Mrs. Cheesman, who were celebrating wedding anniversaries that day. Walter Madill's birthday that day was another reason for congratulations.

How about a few words of encouragement to a lady who has battled troubles for almost a year? Maizie Kelly is now out of hospital and is with her sister Evelyn, Mrs. Williams, at Bobcaygeon (or Nogies Creek). Maizie has had a problem with healing following surgery and we trust she has had the last of hospital beds - good as they are - for a long while to come.

Mrs. A. Marles and Mrs. Myrtle Faulkner visited their sister, Mrs. Ada Irwin and Mrs. Vi Bodkin at Lindsay on Tuesday evening.

Yours truly and Mrs. Marles spend some time with Mrs. Alma Hunt at Fenelon Falls on Friday evening.

Mrs. Verna McDonald of Minden, Mrs. Mary Snodden of Kinmount and myself motored to North Bay on Thursday of last week. The occasion was the annual Avon President's Club luncheon and awards, held at the Ramada Inn there. Also from this district, present at the luncheon were Dorothy Bain, Edith Johnson and Lola Sims, all of Haliburton and Diane Vichere of Cardiff. I had not been to North Bay in years and somehow missed the big arch that says "Gateway to the North". Roads were good though we did see a big Hydro truck that had crossed the road and landed on its left side in deep snow, near Burke's Falls. The accident wasn't serious and the passengers climbed out the right hand door. The accident had just happened and the wheels on the truck were still spinning.

Our big laugh of the day was on the return home. Somehow we ended up staying on Highway 11 and so never came near Huntsville nor Dorset. We almost ended up in Aurora, Newmarket or Richmond Hill. We sure weren't lost - knew where we were all the time but it wasn't where we had planned to be! Oh well, the luncheon was great - except for the uncooked green beans - the baked Alaska didn't have much cake in it. The piano player was good, but the type of music he played was the kind you hear when you pass an open bar room door - and few of us appreciated it, but there were some nice awards, prizes, a film, speeches, etc.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

Isn't it hard to believe that we had such a lovely weekend? It has been a long time coming, but it was most enjoyable. I sure hope it continues for a long while. The only thing that bothers me is that a lot of roofs still have much snow on them, or like our home a lot of ice along the edges, and if it isn't taken off, it will cause damage to the ceilings of your home. It happened to us last year. The best way to get the ice off is if possible, to connect a hose to your hot water tank and pour the hot water to it in behind the ice. Be sure that you have small trenches in the ice so the water can drain down off the roof.

There are only two more Thursday afternoons left for you to go skating at the arena from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. with the Nursery Play School.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hurta are home after a lovely holiday in the south of Florida.

The Thrift Shop will be open at St. Paul's Parish Hall upstairs, every Friday afternoon unless otherwise advertised.

One can't change the weather, but one can change their driving to suit it. Anyone interested in hearing the reports of the Scholarship Fund, and the Student Loan Fund, as well as the audited financial statement of funds, is welcome to attend the annual meeting being held on Thursday, February 18 in the high school library at 8 p.m.

Keep a date with the Minden Figure Skaters at their Carnival on March 14.

Movies will be shown at the Library/Cultural Centre on February 26. The adult movies from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. will include Colonel Byes Town (about Ottawa); Jalan (about Java); Pipers & N.A. (Scots in Canada); and Away From it All.

The childrens movies from 7:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. will be cartoons. All are welcome.

Bradley Robinson of Scarborough spent the week-end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Phil Robinson.

Winter is the time of year when your car won't start and your fuel bills won't stop.

Mushroom Pancakes: 1 3/4 cups unsifted all-purpose flour; 3 tsp. baking powder; 1/2 tsp. salt; 1/8 tsp. ground mace; 1 egg well beaten; 1 tbs. very finely chopped onion; 1 (10 ounce) can condensed cream of mushroom soup; 1 1/2 cups milk; 1/4 cup cooking oil; sift together into a mixing bowl, the flour, baking powder, salt and mace. Combine well-beaten egg, onion, mushroom soup, milk and oil. Make a well in flour mixture; gradually stir in liquids and mix until batter is well blended. Bake as pancakes on a lightly greased heated frypan or griddle. Serve hot. Makes about six servings.

The official opening of the Minden curling rink will be held on Saturday, February 20. Open House starts at 8 p.m., the ribbon cutting will be at 8:30 p.m. and the Dance will start at 9 p.m. All are welcome. There is no charge at the door, but there will be refreshments.

When winter brings the frost and snow, and aches and pains galore.

And draughts that freeze and do not please, and troubles by the score, Smile if you can, you are not the only one who isn't hot.

Winners at last week's mini card party were: cribbage - Lil Porter, Gladys Wruth, Euchre - lone hands on a cut - Marg McAfee, Alice Clark, Jeanne Sears.

These card parties are held every Thursday and everyone has a lot of fun.

What would you think if your husband dropped you off at someone's home in town, went about his own business, then drove home completely forgetting to pick you up? Methinks the honeymoon must be over and after only 40 odd years!

Stay healthy and happy. Don't get bogged down in the snow and be here again next week.

Toddlers realize when their lives are changing at home Prepare child early for baby

by Catharine Clark,
Infant Development
Consultant

Something's going on at home. Mom won't play crawling games on the floor anymore and people are saying she's getting fat. All I know is, she says there's someone coming to live with us soon, someone who makes a lot of noise and takes a lot of time. I'm angry.

A second baby is on the way. One sociologist suggested that you imagine how you would feel if your husband came home, obviously happy, with the news that he was bringing another wife home to keep you company. He would still love you and he would be depending on you even more to help with the new arrival; how would you feel? There are things you can do to make the expansion of your family easier on your toddler.

Start by telling him that you are going to have another baby who is growing inside you. Let him feel the movement and listen for the heart beat. Talk about the fact that his friends have babies in their homes. Perhaps "borrow" a baby to babysit so that all this talk will become easier for the toddler to envision.

If your toddler is over three this may be a good time to encourage his independent life such as preschool, swimming classes or playing with a same-age friend, without making him feel neglected. He won't have a baby brother or sister to play with right away so tell him instead how helpless newborn babies seem.

Include your toddler in the process of getting ready for the baby. He might enjoy helping to decorate the baby's room. Have you ever shown him his baby pictures? Grandparents, aunts or uncles might remember a funny story about when he was a baby. Help him to have an attitude of tolerant and amused superiority about the baby. In general, avoid any major change in the child's life, moving for instance, six months before to six months after the birth of the baby.

About two weeks before the delivery date, talk to your toddler about the arrangements for him while you're in the hospital. He should be accustomed to being alone with Daddy, staying overnight at Grandma's or whatever the plans are so that as regular a routine as possible is maintained. Make no promises that you aren't sure you can keep. If you told your four year old that you would only be away for three days and you don't show up for more than a week, he's bound to be more hurt and angry.

When your labour starts, say goodbye even if you have to wake him up. If the hospital allows it and the toddler wants to, have him visit you in the hospital. He will want to see the old familiar you, so you may reconsider if you have intravenous feeding or very limited activity. If you can't arrange toddler visits or early discharge, phone him often, especially at bedtime. Perhaps send home small gifts. If you can borrow an instant camera Daddy can bring home pictures of you everyday.

NEXT WEEK: Bringing home your second baby, and the adjustments of the toddler.

Coboconk News

Grant Benson has been recuperating at home following his hospital stay.

Congratulations to Shawn Angiers who won a free birthday party for himself and friends at McDonald's in Lindsay. A couple of weeks ago Kerry Downes was the winner so Coby kids have been lucky lately.

Congratulations to the Coboconk ladies Auxiliary Legion Branch 519 who won the bowling trophy for the Zone tournament in Peterborough last week-end.

Sincere thanks to those who planned, the kitchen staff, and to those who donated pies. Following the dinner an overflow crowd danced to the music of the "Centre Line" of Haliburton. Sincere appreciation to all those whose patronage made this annual event such a success.

On February 27, the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association are sponsoring a dance in the Gooderham Community Centre from 8:30 to 1 a.m. Buffet lunch will be served at 11 p.m. Music will be provided by a D.J. Everyone is welcome. All proceeds go toward trail grooming and maintenance.

Happy Gang News

by Watson Anderson

Melissa Stevens put the Happy Gang choir through their paces in practice, assisted by Jan Shipley, pianist, Monday morning. This activity has become our most popular activity next to meals. There are two potential soloists, Peggy Henderson and Edgar Long. All the other members are aiming for excellence.

Over the week-end some good samaritans (being Norman and John) shovelled the snow from the shed roof just to be sure there was no cave in. There is much valuable extender property stored there but not very much of our own.

The carpet was rolled out in the afternoon for bowling and there is evidence of much improvement by learning not to be rambunctious in casting the bowl at the target area. The carpet used in the community centre is marked and scores different to ours, a matter we will look into. We have no official rule book.

June Devolin conducted bible study Tuesday morning, taking as the subject the first part of the story of Joseph up to his being sold as a slave to Egypt, how all his eleven brothers ganged up on him to be rid of him. This could not happen today because of a well organized social security. It is interesting that Joseph, the youngest of Jacob's old age was his father's chief shepherd, being especially skilled. Thanks June.

We were again favoured in the evening when Nancy Picard, piano and Peggy Neville soloist gave out a lovely entertainment of the old time folksy sing song.

The next order of activity will be the maple syrup industry across Canada but we hope especially the County of Haliburton. Most likely the high interest rates and the high labour costs will price it completely out for all time. It does seem strange that the political economy is now such that the maple tree has become a dud in the sap running time, but years ago during our boyhood it was very common and very popular and besides, made a nice profit.

Wednesday morning the ladies, Vera Griffin, Flossie Burk, Beryl Morrow, Hazel Parish and Maud Weston set

Local cooperation explored

by Susan Clements

A young man is arrested on a break and enter charge. A family member becomes ill and requires out-patient treatment from a remote hospital. A child is not coping well in the regular kindergarten classroom.

While these cases are hypothetical, they could happen in Haliburton County. Helping agencies such as the police, and public health unit may become involved, and provide remedial action within the limits of their jurisdiction. This treats the symptom, but may not unearth and treat the basic problem. At the present time, there is no forum for helping agencies working in Haliburton County to collectively resolve the client's problems. Since most of the social service providers are located outside of Haliburton County, this acts as an additional impediment to collective problem solving.

For this reason, Haliburton County Social Planning Council, Haliburton County

Local Advisory Board on Children's Services, and the Tri-County Local Working Group sponsored a workshop in November, 1981, to explore the concept of voluntary coordination among services. The workshop was attended by 65 field and administrative staff in the following sectors: health, education, social services, volunteers, consumers, and elected officials.

Douglas Hodgson, Director of Education for Haliburton County, chaired the meeting. Bill Fraser, Administrator of D'Arcy Place and Durham Centre, was the guest speaker. He addressed the themes of voluntary coordination, and responding to rural needs. Alan Vallilée, Area Manager for the Children's Services Division of the Ministry of Community and Social Services, presented the hypothetical case studies, which were the subject of the group discussions. In the afternoon, Malcolm Shookner, Policy Advisor with the Ministry of Community and Social Services, examined the findings of the workshop groups. The closing remarks were delivered by Doug Devolin, Principal of the Senior Elementary School.

Participants were divided into six groups to examine the case histories, and each group leader presented his/her report to the full meeting. These reports were the expression of each group's solution to the problems contained in the histories.

As a result of the workshop and written questionnaires answered by the participants, a list of suggestions, which would encourage the collective examination of problems by all agencies involved in a case, was prepared by the workshop planning committee. Presently, these suggestions are being reviewed by the workshop participants, and Haliburton County Social Planning Council is awaiting the review responses. The council will initiate the next step to ensure effective follow-up.

ish; and Doug and Hilda Sealey taking Norman Titus and Harold Austin. It was a nice dinner of meat loaf with delicious cheese sauce, string beans and boiled potatoes followed by dessert of raisin squares and ice cream. There was lots of coffee and tea. Jack Bassett presided, offering the grace and welcoming the many guests. It was a lovely winter day, lots of snow and scenery we would be loath to exchange for what is south.

On returning to Haliburton we found the whole snow clearance crew running full blast removing snow from busy streets. It is a magnificent country in winter, much different than when we were little boys and girls at Sundridge.

We were not asked to comment on this doctor's strike, a word that is getting dirtier every month. The surgeon physician is well indoctrinated in the premise of "the survival of the fittest" which ideally should be allowed reasonable scope but the tendency in the medical sophistication seems to be to strive to defeat it.

The Rev. Trevor Denny of the St. George's Anglican Parish in Haliburton conducted the devotional period Friday morning with Marjorie Sissons pianist, and to our dismay he informed us that he is leaving us to take another parish in Toronto where he will be within easy visiting distance. The theme was taken from Ephesians 2 v. 4 "But God who is rich in mercy for his great love wherewith he loved us" stressing the great closeness we have with Him. It was a memorable snack we had with Rev. Trevor and Marjorie with cookies, tea and coffee.

Three movies were shown in the afternoon, Ray Smith projectionist. 1. Express Link to Europe describing the tremendous tunnel under the English channel to directly link London to Paris in high speed travel. That will be the dominant conversational topic from now for aeons and undoubtedly will amortize itself very quickly; 2. Hyland Heart of Nova Scotia meaning of course Cape Breton Island one of the marvelous scenic gems of Canada. We never tire of that film no matter how often it is shown; 3. Portrait of Grandpa Doc, is really one of those literary classic gems of the affinity between a grandson and his grandpa.

Ivy Shaw was away today at extendicare, Toronto learning all she can about how best to train us, leaving behind Kathy Carey and an interesting program.

HHSS 71-72 reunion set

People who attended Haliburton Highlands Secondary School from September 1970 to June 1971 will get a chance to meet old friends and sweethearts at a reunion planned for May.

The event, which will get underway at 7 p.m. at the school on Saturday, May 22, is being organized by Derinda Hewitt, who was "Miss School Spirit" in the 1970-71 school year.

Cost of the evening, which is still in the planning stages, is expected to be $4 per person.

If you attended HHSS 11 years ago, you won't want to miss the reunion. For more information call Derinda Hewitt at 286-2547.

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT NOTICE

THE EXPROPRIATIONS ACT NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR APPROVAL TO EXPROPRIATE LAND

IN THE MATTER of an application by the Minister of Transportation and Communications for approval to expropriate lands being in the Township of Stanhope, in the Provisional County of Haliburton, in the Province of Ontario, for the purpose of reconstructing and widening a portion of Secondary Highway 118 to eliminate sharp curves and works related thereto.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that application has been made for approval to expropriate the land described in the schedule hereto.

Any owner of lands in respect of which notice is given who desires an inquiry into whether the taking of such land is fair, sound and reasonably necessary in the achievement of the objectives of the expropriating authority shall so notify the approving authority in writing.

(a) in the case of a registered owner, served personally or by registered mail within thirty days after he is served with this notice, or, when he is served by publication, within thirty days after the first publication of the notice; (b) in the case of an owner who is not a registered owner, within thirty days after the first publication of the notice. THE APPROVING AUTHORITY IS Minister of

Transportation and Communications
G.F. Wetherall
Regional Director
P.O. Box 3030
North Bay, Ontario

NOTES:
1. The Expropriations Act provides that, (a) where an inquiry is requested, it shall be conducted by an inquiry officer appointed by the Minister of Justice and Attorney General; (b) the inquiry officer, (i) shall give every party to the inquiry an opportunity to present evidence and argument and to examine and cross-examine witnesses, either personally or by his counsel or agent, and (ii) may recommend to the approving authority that a party to the inquiry be paid a fixed amount for his costs of the inquiry not to exceed $200 and the approving authority may in its discretion order the expropriating authority to pay such costs forthwith.

2. "owner" and "registered owner" are defined in the Act as follows:
"owner" includes a mortgagee, tenant, execution creditor, a person entitled to a limited estate or interest in land, a committee of the estate of a mentally incompetent person or of a person incapable of managing his affairs, and a guardian, executor, administrator or trustee in whom the land is vested; "registered owner" means an owner of land whose interest in the land is defined and whose name is specified in an instrument in the proper Land Registry or Sheriff's office, and includes a person shown as a tenant of land on the last revised assessment roll;

3. The expropriating authority, each owner who notifies the approving authority that he desires a hearing in respect of the lands intended to be expropriated and any owner added as a party by the inquiry officer are parties to the inquiry.

SCHEDULE

All right, title and interest in the lands described as follows:
In the Township of Stanhope, in the Provisional County of Haliburton, in the Province of Ontario, being Parts of Lot 24, Concession 3, designated as Parts 21 and 23 on Ministry of Transportation and Communications' Plan P-7140-19 deposited in the Land Registry Office for the Registry Division of Haliburton as Plan 19R-2484.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank all my friends, relatives and church groups for their prayers, gifts, phone calls and visits while I was in the hospital.

A thank you also to be sent to Ron and Mary Harrison and Grandma who made it possible for my mother to stay with me and to all my doctors and nurses at Peterborough Civic Hospital.

All your kindness was greatly appreciated. Scott Whittaker and family. 27-P-17

I would like to take this opportunity to express my heartfelt thanks to all those who sent cards, gifts and phone calls during my recent illness.

Special thanks to Dr. Hartwick, the very efficient ambulance drivers, Bill Davis and Hans Pripp, Dr. Belch and the nursing staff at the Red Cross Hospital, Haliburton and Peterborough Civic Hospital. Many thanks. Gloria Nimigon 27-P-17

I wish to thank Dr. Heyes, nurses and staff at Haliburton Hospital for their care during my recent stay.

Also Haliburton Ambulance drivers. A special thanks to my family, my Pastor Stan Rukin and I openly praise God for how He made His love so real to me through so many acts of love from my brothers and sisters in the Lord. Pat Fearrey 27-P-17 theme. The cake was Joanne Buss' work of art. Marcella was presented with a beautiful cut work linen table cloth and napkins by the church members in recognition and appreciation of her long and loyal tenure of unselfish service.

Mrs. Ruth McLennan, the Dorset School principal, is attending a language arts conference at York University, on February 17, 18, and 19 of this month.

The Dorset Community

Centre Building Fund committee are holding a fund raising sleigh ride and dance on Saturday, February 17. The ride is at 6:30 and the dance at 9:30. The package price is $10 or $5 for each individually. Tickets for the sleigh ride must be reserved by February 19. For tickets and further information call Dorset Garage, 766-2282 and ask for Ron. The 50-50 draw for February will be drawn at the dance. Sounds like lots of fun so come on out and support the cause. The music for the dance will be by Bill Leary.

John McLennan will be home for study week February 22-26 from Toronto where he is attending the Ontario College of Arts and enjoying the course very much.

Jon "Derry" celebrated a birthday on February 16. I think he said he would be 39. We send congratulations and wish him many more.

The Dorset school is holding a Science Fair on February 24, at 7 p.m. and everyone is invited. All of the children will be taking an active part in the displays for the evening. The environment lab will have a display, the Senior Citizens will have a demonstration on working with rocks and the Frost Centre will be there with a display. So come out and support the children in their efforts.

The School children celebrated Valentine's Day on Friday 12 with an exchange of Valentine cards. Lucinda St. Pierre from the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts attended for a craft period. It was her birthday and the children made her a cake and presented her with a birthday Valentine tree. The spring swimming program for the school has been finalized. The first day of the six week course will be Monday, March 27. The cost to the children will be $2 per week, a total of $12. The children will be in the pool for instruction for half the time, and in the sports complex learning and having fun with the equipment there for the remainder.

We wish Pricilla Lewis the best and hope that she is feeling much better following some time spent in hospital.

H.H. To eliminate excess fat from soup or stews, drop in a few ice cubes and stir around, the fat will adhere to them and they can be discarded. Or wrap ice cubes in a paper towel or piece of cheese cloth and skim over the top.

very geography, the topography of the nation. It is a subtle thing. Even the confidence we do have in ourselves as individuals usually relates to our sense of ourselves as being able to survive in a sometimes barren, tough, desolate and frequently cold existence as happened with our pioneer forefathers and happens now in many Canadian communities.

"Even when we do have confidence, it is frequently in terms of our response to the land rather than our sense of ourselves as being ingenious, shrewd, tough, clever or competitive. We rarely think of ourselves in those terms. The immigrant communities do, but strangely, we do not. We think of ourselves more as enduring, as lasting despite the tough winter's night most of us have to go through. It is a strange aspect of the Canadian cultural mentality.

"If we continue that way, little by little our industries will grind down, our young people will go West, our country will become more of a portion of a continental entity, our autonomy will be less and less meaningful and Ontario will play a much lesser role than need be in our great country of Canada.

"The answer is for us to have as much confidence in ourselves as people as we have in the land and its resources so that we can marshal those resources to our benefit. That means we must organize ourselves. We must work with our financial elite to make certain it is the Canadian entrepreneur who is given the break. We must see the world as having potential for our market... train our young people... take risks.

"We must tell our story, have national heroes, teach our history in the schools, tell the story of financial and personal successes, make Canadians proud of our people, not just our territory and the great land the Lord has given us, but rather, in addition to that, make us proud of ourselves as people who can take on all comers."

"We are going to have to live by our wits... and our ingenuity... to have confidence in ourselves as people. We are going to have to invest in our people, train them, organize them, learn to work together in different groups and basically see ourselves as... every bit as good, as tough, as clever and as competitive as any people on the face of this earth.

"If we do that, with the gifts we have already received by being citizens of this great province in this wonderful country, I am convinced we can make a future for our children that is even greater than any that has been dreamed of in the past."
